
"The Charity Fair Again."

Rabbi Moses J. Gries will speak at the Willson avenue temple at 10:30 a. m. upon the subject "The Charity Fair Again." It is just about a year ago since the fair was given in Grays' armory by the Cleveland Council of Jewish Women, for the benefit of a new home for the Jewish charities of Cleveland. The cramped condition of the present quarters on Woodland avenue testify to the urgent need of a large and commodious building. The women of the council intend to do some active work towards raising the necessary funds for the new edifice during the next few weeks. Rabbi Gries is personally interested in the success of the enterprise, and will have a few things to say relative thereto.
